Steve's bike on the ocean wave!

SUPER-BIKER Steve Smith is out to pedal round the world ... without getting his feet wet.

For he and pal Jason Lewis will use a pedal-powered BOAT to get them across the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

The English duo will take to mountain bikes for the land stages of their 25,000-mile trek, starting in April.

It's a fund-raiser for the Council for World Citizenship charity.

Their boat goes on display at London's Boat Show today. And visitors can have their names put on it for £10.
