Pedalling To Hawaii

A Human Powered Adventure Across The Western Hemisphere
Is Stevie Smith's account of a journey that has been labelled
"The Last Great First"

Despite having little experience of travelling, Or of the sea,
And having no funds to fund this hugely ambitious goal, Stevie and his friend Jason manage to:

- Cycle down through Europe.
- Then cycle and skate across America.
- Cross the Atlantic Ocean in an ocean-going pedal boat. Taking 111 days to pedal the 7,500 km to Miami.
- And pedal 3,500 km across the Pacific Ocean to Hawaii.

The Ultimate Goal, Expedition 360.

To be the first around the world
by human power is still ongoing...

A Big Thank You to all the help and support you have given us so far!

Quotes

'A journey of great courage and determination'
The Dalai Lama

'Not only human powered but also a humanising trip'
Lord Yehudi Menuhin

'Shows that anything is possible'
Sir Ranulph Fiennes, Expedition President

'completely unputdownable...
a beautifully written, elegantly structured odyssey, which touches the hopes and fears of anyone who has ever questioned the purpose of life... tense, lyrical, and often so funny I found myself laughing out loud'
Nicholas Crane, author of Clear Waters Rising, Two Degrees West and Mercator
