UNCOMMON WORLD TRAVELLER

A Briton attempting to travel the world by human-powered means parked his kayak in Singapore yesterday, marking the completion of two- thirds of a trip that has lasted 11 years. Mr Jason Lewis, 37, arrived at Sentosa at about 2pm from Sumatra island. He left London in 1994 and has gone about two-thirds around the world without using motors or the wind. From here, he plans to cycle through Thailand, Vietnam and China.
